The FISITA World Mobility Summit is a unique and exclusive annual meeting of the world’s automotive and mobility technical leaders.

With the new era of mobility upon us, we are witnessing industries that traditionally existed within their own market space entering the automotive landscape and hence the boundaries of those markets are blurring as we collectively collaborate and operate within the ‘new mobility ecosystem’.

The FISITA World Mobility Summit 2019 will bring the key players of those ecosystems together to consider and discuss this challenging subject, with a focus on the following critical questions:

- What has changed and what is the new paradigm of the emerging ecosystem?
- What are the new challenges and opportunities created by this change?
- How can the new ecosystem stakeholders work together?
- Can new standards and regulations alone create an efficient industry and benefit the consumer?

Following the Summit, the FISITA White Paper Working Group will develop the output from this high-level, technical leadership strategy session and publish the FISITA Ecosystems of New Mobility White Paper in 2020.

Having an open-minded exchange on the significant regulatory changes, variances and challenges the international automotive and mobility systems industry has to face is critical. Nagoya, Japan, offers an ideal setting for open-minded, yet fundamental dialogue on the topic — with this, we’re delighted to invite you to the 10th FISITA World Mobility Summit.

Participation is strictly limited and attendance is by invitation only.
